PRESIDENT WITNESS.

Packers Building on His Letter.

Claim Communication in Rebuttal Case is Testimony in Their Favor.

Defendants Making Nation's Head Central Figure in Trial at Chicago.

Cudahy Threatened With Imprisonment by Garfield, Claims Attorney.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—President Roosevelt has been made the central figure around which revolves the entire case involving the plea of the indicted packers for immunity from further prosecution by the government on charges of being in conspiracy to combine in restraint of trade and commerce.

Attorney W. J. Hines for the defendants, in his opening statement today for the jury hearing the immunity plea, read an excerpt from a letter written by President Roosevelt to Atty.-Gen. Moody in the Acheson, Tappan & Santa Fe rebate case, which was a part of the communications between the two men called for by Congress some time ago.

This letter is taken by the packers as an admission by the President to the Department of Commerce and Labor and the Department of Justice worked together to indict the packers, supporting the contention of the packers upon which they rest for immunity.

The defendant packers will endeavor to inject the letter into the case as evidence, just as if the President were Midshipman Mayo, Who Gave Newcomers "Helpful Suggestions," up for Standing Cadet on His Head.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Jan. 22.—The case of Midshipman Claude B. Mayo of Columbus, Miss., a member of the first class, was taken up today by the court-martial. Mayo is the ninth midshipman to come before the court since its commencement, and the tenth case, as Stephen Decatur, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., has been tried twice.

Fourth Classman Theodore H. Winters was the first witness for the prosecution, and said that one Sunday morning during September Mayo had made him stand on his head and do the "sixteenth." Midshipman John M. Sloane said that Mayo had made him stand on his head about two minutes.

Midshipman Hugh Allen, the first witness for the defense, said that he had been Mayo's roommate for a year and a half. Y.M.C.A. member should not have Mayo, he said, was the editor of a Y.M.C.A. publication designed to give newcomers helpful suggestions.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles R. May, Jr., testified that Mayo is one of the prominent members of the Y.M.C.A. and it had come to his knowledge that Mayo considered his reputation as incompatible with having.

CLIPPING AND "FADS."

Osborne read a clipping from Town Topics about a member of the family of J. R. Baker of Baltimore which, he said, had been sent to Baker from the Town Topics office.

Col. Mann denied that it was a practice to send such clippings to those whom the Town Topics Company wished to subscribe for the paper. He said he did not know Baker or any member of his family, but that Baker had called at his office to complain about the manner in which the paper had treated his family.

Col. Mann said that there were perhaps three or four persons who perused the paper for the book called "Fads and Fancies," whose names did not appear therein. They did not care to be mentioned in the book, he said.

The witness said that for $100.00 he gave Mrs. Collins P. Huntington two copies of the book "Fads and Fancies."

Here Osborne rested the defense of Haggood's case.

After recess, Dist.-Attorney Jerome recalled Col. Mann to the witness stand, Col. Mann told of a transaction which he said he had with Perry Belmont. Osborne asked him whether he sold Belmont Town Topics stock and whether the lawyer, Abraham

A contract was produced showing that $2500 was paid by William J. White of Cleveland for a subscription to the paper.

FATNESS IN FADS.

Col. Mann Rolled in Big Money.

"Town Topics" Editor Borrowed from Morgan, Vanderbilt and Others.

Nearly Two Hundred Thousand Dollars Secured and "Repaid" in Stock.

Senator Clark Discussed With Him the Building of His Railroad.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Col. W. D. Mann, editor of Town Topics, testified at the Haggood criminal libel trial today, that he had borrowed nearly $200,000 from J. P. Morgan, James R. Keene, W. K. Vanderbilt, William C. Whitney and other prominent financiers. Many of these loans never were repaid, so far as Col. Mann could recall, and others were repaid in stock of Town Topics at $1000 a share.

The largest single loan was obtained from James R. Keene, who loaned the Town Topics editor $50,000; from W. K. Vanderbilt, Col. Mann obtained $25,000; from J. P. Morgan $25,000; from W. C. Whitney $10,000; from Col. F. P. Huntington $5,000; from John W. Gates $5,000; Charles M. Schwab $10,000; and Thomas F. Ryan $10,000.

When Col. Mann testified that many of these loans were paid in Town Topics stock at $1000 a share, James W. Osborne, counsel for Haggood, asked if the par value of the stock were not $10 per share. Col. Mann replied that it was.

A contract was produced showing that $2500 was paid by William J. White of Cleveland for a subscription to the paper.

CHICAGO "REDS" ON THE MARCH.

SOCIALISTS PARADE IN WORST STORM OF THE WINTER.

They Laid the "Martyrs of Russia" and Call for Three Cheers for the "Revolution"—Many Women are Among the Paraders—Crimes Banners by Hundreds.

ST. DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES: CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Breasting the terrible blizzard and literally drowning the clanger of the elements with their chant of the "Marsellaise," with red flags flying and banners playing, the Chicago Socialists, 600 in number, including women, paraded through the worst storm of the winter tonight to pay their respects to the martyrs of Russia's "Red Sunday."

At intervals through the marching columns was seen the American flag and emblems of other nations, but the red banner was carried by hundreds of marchers. The principal body of marchers assembled at Columbia Hall, on the West Side, and marched to the north side of Turner, a distance of three miles.

There were many dramatic incidents during the march through the ice-covered streets. The first column was a pandemonium of noise. From time to time the call, "Three cheers for the revolution," was always greeted with prolonged cheering. Banners bearing the legend, "Remember Sunday, January 22, 1905," in yellow on a red ground, were carried.

G. F. Bismarck of Alameda-Lorraine, a member of the Nationalist Committee, made the principal address and wrought his listeners to frenzy. "They are not dead," he said. "The Russian hero of Red Sunday marched at the head of a hundred thousand Socialists in St. Petersburg. They are not dead. They are marching at the head of the legions of freedom."

At Fresno Frank E. Smith, a dentist of Madera and Fresno, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by swallowing carbolic acid. Suicide followed a protracted agony.

An explosion in a sawmill four and a half miles from Fresno, Cal., resulted in the killing of six men and injury to three others. The mill was badly wrecked.

Roy George E. Burlingame of the Covenant Baptist Church, Chicago, resigned Sunday to accept a call to the First Baptist Church of San Francisco, at a salary of $1,000.

A slide of snow a mile long and a half mile wide on top of Mount Shasta, California, is reported to have killed a man and injured a woman.

A Manila dispatch says the sentence of Lieut. Pendleton, who was condemned to life imprisonment for murder, has been reconsidered and changed to imprisonment for twenty years.

Traffic has been resumed on the Utah extension of the California Northwestern, and all trains are now running on time. At one point near Pike's Flat, 250 feet of track was washed away by the high water.

There have been no additional deaths as the result of the panic in St. Paul's Cathedral (colored), Philadelphia. The number of dead reported today is seventeen. The two-score of injured have, with the exception of four persons, returned to their homes.

United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina is to be the principal speaker for the New York Democratic Club at its first monthly dinner, Tuesday evening of next week. The occasion, it is said, will mark the opening of the State fight.

Sixty prominent retail bicycle dealers from various portions of California met at San Jose yesterday morning to organize a state cycle board of trade. The new association will embrace all the most important bicycle firms in Northern and Central California.

Announcement was made Sunday night at Old South Church, Boston, that the annual collection for the American Board of Foreign Missions amounted to $11,000. This amount is said to be the largest ever made for Congregational missions by any one parish in the country.

At Red Bluff, in the Superior Court, yesterday, before Judge Feltman and a jury, the case of the Central Canal and Irrigation Company against the H. Kraft Company, bankers of that city, was begun. The suit is one of a number brought by the canal company to condemn and fix the value on certain lands in this and other counties.

The topic of "Intoxicants" was the subject of the second of a series of cooperative sermons, preached Sunday night in Chicago by Jennings Lloyd Jones, All Souls Independent Church; Rev. Willard Brown Thorpe, South Congregational Church; Dr. J. H. McDonald, Oakland Methodist Episcopal Church; and Rev. E. T. Tuller, Memorial Baptist Church.

AFTER MORE FRANCHISES.

STOCKTON, Jan. 22.—H. H. Griffith, local representative of the Western Pacific and who secured the city franchise for the Central California Traction Company, now building eight miles of electric lines in Stockton, tonight applied to the City Council for additional franchises to connect with the traction company's city lines.

The important connection is at the southeastern corner of the city, from which point he plans to extend the road through Modesto and on to Merced to a connection with the Yosemite Railroad now being built from Merced. This is one of the interurban lines projected by the city.

SANTA FE CUT-OFF.

Work on the cut-off of the Santa Fe Railroad in the neighborhood of Albuquerque, which will do away with the heavy grades in the vicinity of Raton Pass and Trinidad, Colo., is expected to be completed within three weeks.

Considerable interest centers in the new road which will connect Texico, Tex., with Rio Fuerte, N. M., and incidentally two branches of the Santa Fe, in the light of the coming speed contest between transcontinental railroads for the contract to carry government mail.

The cut-off will shorten the distance now covered by the Santa Fe by about twenty-five miles, and will do away with the grades where the most time between Chicago and Los Angeles is lost. That the new road when completed will be used as the main line for fast mail and passenger service is now conceded by officials. It is expected that trains will be running over the connecting link by February 26.

MEAD, CROOK, CAUGHT AGAIN.

TRAPPED IN SMOOTH GAME ON SANTA FE TRAIN.

Ex-convict Plans Kidnaping of Indian Baby to Throw Passengers Into Confusion and Afford Him Opportunity to Enter Wrong Berth and Get Valuable—Escaped Before.

When William Elmer Mead was placed behind the bars in the City Jail yesterday one of the cleverest and most desperate crooks in the business had been caught, according to the officers. Mead is an ex-convict and sometimes known as the "Christ child," because his parents, when he was a boy, proclaimed that he was the reincarnation of Jesus of Nazareth.

The crook was captured on board the Pullman sleeping car Niagara, attached to the Santa Fe Limited train which arrived in this city early yesterday morning. The colored porter and Conductor Grantley landed him after a desperate fight. Mead attempted to jump from the train between Los Angeles and Pasadena when it was moving very rapidly, but was held a prisoner in the car until turned over to the local police.

The train was thirteen hours late and the passengers were compelled to wait nine hours at Barstow, where Mead became the master of ceremonies and suggested all kinds of schemes to while away the time.

The one which is believed to have worked to his ends was exceedingly clever. He proposed that a passbook be kidnapped and hidden in the car. It was done and when the train started to seek there was confusion in plenty to allow Mead's suspicious actions to go unnoticed.

The passbook was found by the Indians, but one woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Downs, had noticed the actions of Mead in the berth of Joseph B. Kelly of Chicago, which was across from his own and opposite the woman's.

Kelly had left his purse, containing drafts and three $20 bills in his berth, and after the Indians had left the train he discovered that it was missing. He reported the matter to the conductor and the first person to be suspected was the Negro porter. The purse and drafts, but not the money, were found beside the porter's satchel in the end of the car.

Mrs. Downs then went to the porter and told of the suspicious actions of Mead while pretending to be climbing down from his berth when he was really in Kelly's berth. Mead strenuously denied knowledge of the theft, but a telegram was sent to the Chief of Police regarding the situation, and an officer was detailed to meet the train.

Conductors Grantley and Dibble and the Negro porter kept Mead carefully guarded all the way in. Just before the train reached this city the porter discovered the crook attempting to unlock the vestibule door to jump out, and he instantly sprang upon him and pulled him back upon the platform, at the same time calling Grantley. The two men overpowered Mead after a struggle.

When taken into the chief's office Mead was searched and a roll of bills containing over $200 found on him. In the center of the roll were three $20's, which Kelly believes are those stolen from him. Mead was silent and refused to explain his movements, but at last he was persuaded to sign an order to the desk sergeant to give Kelly $20. Several years ago Mead was arrested by Capt. Bradish and handcuffed, but broke away and escaped. In August, 1918, when Mead was being taken to San Quentin from San Diego by steamer, he jumped overboard off Oceanview, swam ashore, and succeeded in eluding the police until the last of September of that year. He was under sentence for burglary at the time, and was finally recaptured in Kings county.

ADMIRER'S NOTE LEADS TO JAIL.

EDWARD WILSON TRAPPED BY LETTER TO A GIRL.

Accused of Petty Larceny, He Lies Low, but Finally Gives His Address to Young Woman on Whom He Focused His Attention—Police Nab Him and He's Found Guilty.

It is not often that a young man writes his sweetheart, proposing marriage, that the letter serves as a clue for the officers who are searching for him.

That is just what happened to Edward Wilson, however, and yesterday he was found guilty of petty larceny in the Police Court and will come up for sentence today.

According to what was brought out in the trial, Wilson landed in this city a few weeks ago practically "broke," and as he wandered the streets he fell in with one Corrigan. As each had more time than anything else in which to brood over their troubles and the hard-hearted way in which the world treated them, they confided their troubles to each other.

As a result, a friendship sprang up and the two rented a room together in the Piedmont rooming house, which they occupied for some time. Corrigan found employment, and it is said Wilson also worked some, but failed more. About a week after their meeting, Wilson became acquainted with a fair young woman living on Main street, and paid her considerable attention. He told his friend of his love for the new-found sweetheart, and it was this fact that proved the beginning of his undoing.

One day Corrigan missed his top coat, also his watch and ring. He could locate neither, and reported the matter to the police. He told them further of Wilson's affection for the young woman, whose address he gave. The officers immediately took the clue and went to the house where the young woman roomed to learn what she could tell of the whereabouts of Wilson.

From the story told by the landlady

COLDS CURED IN ONE DAY

Murray's Cold Cure Relieves the Head, Throat and Coughs almost immediately. Fever, Stomach Discharge of the Nose, Takes Away All Aches and Pains Caused by Colds. It Cures Grippe, Whooping Cough, and Prevents Pneumonia. Sold by all Druggists, 25c.

and by the girl herself, it appeared that Wilson had turned out to be a trick. The landlady said that she handed Wilson a $5 gold piece one day to be changed. He went out to get the change, she said, and failed to return. From that time on the young woman refused to see Wilson, despite the fact that he pressed his suit by phone. He then wrote her a letter in which he said he had just rented a room at No. 222 Temple street, and asked her to marry him, saying they could be very comfortable in their new quarters.

The young woman was not particular about keeping the secret, and turned the note over to the detectives. With Wilson's address in their possession the rest was easy. Friday night his room was watched and when he returned to it about midnight he was arrested, and with his earthly belongings taken to the city bastille.

PROFESSIONAL ROOM-WORKERS.

Expert Thieves Enter Boyle Heights Residences During Absence of Occupants and Get Much Booty.

Professional "room workers," those light-fingered thieves who work with such unerring accuracy when the occupants of houses are absent from home, made several good hauls in the Boyle Heights district yesterday afternoon. All of the robberies were reported to the police a short time after they had been committed and detectives were detailed on the several cases.

"It would appear," said an officer last night, "that a gang of expert crooks had been at work, and from the similarity of the mode of entrance adopted in each instance, I think all of it was the work of the same crowd."

C. A. Schooley of No. 414 Ganahl street was the first victim to suffer. Burglars entered his home yesterday afternoon while no one was about, by means of a pass key. Every room in the house was thoroughly ransacked. A small sum of money and some trinkets were taken.

At almost the same hour pass-key burglars entered the home of Frank Horn, No. 808 Cornwall street. Here they secured a lady's gold brooch and other small valuables.

Burglars who entered the home of Mrs. Lillian Price, No. 233 Sheridan street, by means of a side window made a thorough search of the premises, but nothing was missing when the occupants returned home. One of the biggest hauls of the day was made at the home of Charles Rohm, No. 628 North Soto street. There the sneaky thieves departed with $5, one gold bracelet, three gold spangles, one opal ring, one tiger-eye ring, one plain hand gold ring and one neck chain.

BURGULARS BUSY.

Made Rich Haul from Trunks in Quarters of Chinamen and Touch Other Places Lightly.

Burglars effected an entrance into the establishment of Quong Sooy at No. 39 Commercial street yesterday night and made a rich haul. Four trunks were broken open and $450 in gold and a number of articles of value were taken. The robbers prying open a rear window. They left no clue as to their identity.

Max Riehart reported to the police yesterday that someone had ransacked his room in the Burlington House on East Second street yesterday morning and stolen $15, a watch and a rifle. A burglar forced a side window and gained entrance to the home of E. C. Hutton at No. 1425 Santee street, early yesterday morning securing $5 and a gold watch.

STILL AT LARGE.

Harry Howard and Cyril Edlington, who made a daring escape from the County Jail Sunday morning between 6 and 8:30, are still at large. Despite the fact that they had only a half-hour's start of the officers, they have covered their tracks very effectively. Two clues have been picked up, leading in different directions. Sheriff White has gone to San Diego to get the true inwardness of a hint coming from the southern county and Deputy Sheriff Franklin spent part of yesterday in Riverside.

The usual precautions have been taken with regard to outside towns. The officers and police in other towns have been notified of the escape, and a description of the prisoners has been telegraphed to all the large cities of the State.

ROW AT YOUNTVILLE.

SOLDIER STARS ANOTHER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) YOUNTVILLE, Jan. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A row which resulted in a serious stabbing affray occurred at 10 o'clock p.m. at the Veterans' Home today. John Marrowney came into his quarters intoxicated, and was very abusive. Witnesses say he tried to quarrel with several men. He finally attacked Emanuel Francisco, who fought back in a defense.

Francisco had a small shoeknife, with which he stabbed Marrowney twice in the right side, with probably fatal results. There were a number of eye-witnesses, and all agreed that Francisco acted in self-defense.

Both men served in the navy during the Civil War. Francisco has been a member of the Home for a number of years, and always has borne a good reputation, while Marrowney has been known except he was a drinking man and hard to get along with.

He added: "I went to the English last February, as my affairs were in bad shape. There I secured the management of mines in California and Nevada, through the influence of my people, and if this thing had not fallen on me, I should have made $25,000, as well as secured a position worth $10,000 a year. I am ready to go back, and have things cleared up."

CRIME BRIEFS.

Hung Negro's City Seizes.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 22.—A mob of 500 men early Sunday morning took Ernest Baker, a negro, from the Travis county jail and hanged him from a beam on the city scales near the Courthouse, in the center of Cadiz. Baker attempted Saturday night a criminal assault on an 18-year-old girl.

Miner Returns from Alaska and from Behind High Beard Fence He Wreaks Vengeance Upon Four Persons and Then Ends His Own Life to Escape Arrest.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) BOISE (Idaho) Jan. 22.—Henry Neubaumer, a returned Alaska miner, today shot and mortally wounded Ollie Powell, his sweetheart, who had rejected him; Lafayette Gray, his mother; Lillian Gray, sister of Lafayette, and then killed himself in front of the Gray residence.

The miner had become engaged to Ollie. She had rejected him. They were to have been married last November, but the night before the wedding she was said to have run away with Gray. Neubaumer returned to Alaska, but could not get over his grief and returned to Boise last Wednesday. Today he concealed himself behind a high board fence across the street from the Gray residence and shot his victims down as they came out of the house, using a shotgun loaded with buckshot.

The enraged man was quickly surrounded by officers and citizens, attracted by the shooting to the spot, and with a revolver shot himself to escape arrest.

YOUNG PROMOTER ARRESTED.

WANTED IN ST. LOUIS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alfred W. Syrett, a young English mining promoter, was arrested here very quietly last night, on an order from St. Louis for forgery and swindling. The Pinkertons man-aged the affair so secretly that no morning paper had any notice of the arrest, while Marrowney lived in St. Louis, last May, for forgery. It is alleged that September 14, 1904, Syrett

William O'Leary, senior partner of the O'Leary-Rangers, has returned from London where he was expected to have secured a contract for the building of a new hospital at Tooting.

The O'Leary-Rangers firm would be the highest bidder paid in cash by the council, and serve as a basis for all other bids.

That is to say, there should be no objection to the firm being allowed to tender.

careful search at the instance. A man is in business with $50,000 capital, and by his work is making $50,000 a year. Then who want to increase or decrease the business come to him and ask him for a sum for the good will of the business and $50,000 a year to continue to run them. At the end of the year, he will show larger profits than their money.

How About That Bank Account
Which You Intended to Start With the New Year?

Thousands of people make resolutions to open a Bank account with some reliable banking institution at the beginning of each year, but many neglect to fulfill their resolutions.

In later years these negligent ones bemoan their hard luck and vow that were they enabled to live their lives over, no barrier could come between them and a savings account.

Small deposits soon amount up to goodly sums, and place the depositor in an independent position.

The Continental Building & Loan Association of San Francisco is the largest co-operative bank in the United States, and is as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar.

While ordinary savings banks pay 3 per cent. interest, the Continental pays 6 per cent. Why not open an account with the Continental today, and make your money earn 6 per cent. interest?

Thousands of our citizens are taking advantage of the Continental's "Banking by Mail" department.

TRAGEDY OF THE ARCTIC.
WENT SIX THOUSAND MILES TO FIND CRAZY LOVER.

After Enduring for Three Years the Desolation and Solitude of the Remote Mission Station, Joyful Tidings Were Brought Upon Him That He Had His Reason.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Additional information which I have just obtained concerning the touching love romance of the Arctic regions that had such a telling in full, though the story written of it may have reached you by cable. It is a strange tale of the weary waiting and heroic labor of a young missionary who was driven insane by the monotony of his life in the Arctic.

Through Nain is one of the oldest established points in Labrador, having been founded in 1771. It is one of the dreariest places in the world known to man. Only an occasional vessel—forced by stress of weather—touches here; and the Moravian missionary station is not one of the points sought after save by those of the most heroic character.

One of the few men willing to undergo the rigors of the northern climate—the endless nights—the snow—the solitude—was a young German, who became known in the mission as the "Hilbig." For three years he braved the winters as manager of the stores of the station. He proved himself a most efficient worker, and not only mastered the Eskimo language, but made a number of friends among the natives.

It is a rule among the Moravians that missionaries are not permitted to marry until they have demonstrated their capabilities not only to manage the mission station, but to make friends with the natives. Brother Hilbig soon mastered the very difficult Eskimo language, and endeavored himself to all the natives. He was the first to be accepted by the natives; but there was only one drawback to his complete happiness—he was alone.

It is well to lose a love character. Some men work an empty home for all there is in it. In the Arctic, "Don't waste money on a patent when you invent an excuse." Hilbig cannot be copyrighted—which is fortunate for the world at the mission. A man's first wife may be his ideal, but his second is apt to be a better one.

It is easier for a society girl to make her bed than it is for her to make her own clothes. Almost every man has an untold get-rich-quick scheme that looks as easy as getting money from home in a letter.

Possibly there are cases in which a man's love for a woman never dies; but, of course, it is due to the fact that they are too sensible to marry.

PILES CURED QUICKLY AT HOME
Why Suffer Any Longer When You Can Get a Quick, Sure Cure For Your Piles by Simply Sending Your Name and Address?

Trial Package is Sent Absolutely Free, in Plain Wrapper, to Everyone Who Writes.

Surgeons themselves consider a permanent cure of piles by a surgical operation as very doubtful, and resort to it only when the patient has become desperate from long-continued pain and agony. But the operation itself is every bit as excruciating and nerve-racking as the disease. Besides, it is humiliating and expensive, and rarely a success.

The wonderful Pyramid Pile Cure makes an operation unnecessary. You cure yourself with perfect ease, in your own home, and with little expense.

Pyramid Pile Cure gives you instant relief. It immediately takes all sores and ulcers, reduces congestion and inflammation, and takes away all pain, itching and irritation. Just a little of the treatment is usually sufficient to give a permanent cure.

Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared in the form of suppositories so they can be applied directly to the parts without inconvenience, or interrupting your work in any way.

We are sending a trial treatment free of charge, to every one who sends name and address. We do this to prove what we say about this wonderful remedy is true.

After you have tried the sample treatment, and you are satisfied, you can get a full regular-sized treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure at your drug-cash for 50 cents. If he hasn't it, send us the money and we will send you the treatment at once, by mail, in plain sealed package.

Send your name and address at once for a trial of this marvelous quick sure cure. Address Pyramid Drug Co., 9559 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich.

The usual crowd of Sunday drunks faced Judge Rosen when last opened court yesterday morning and nearly fifty of them were tried, found guilty and sentenced to pay fines of from $1 to $10 or to spend a like number of days in the County Jail.

Montana Sorites Coming.

The members of the Montana Press Association will leave Butte Saturday, February 19, on an excursion to Los Angeles and Southern California points as guests of the Oregon Short Line and the Salt Lake railroad. Sunday, February 20, will be spent in Salt Lake, leaving in the evening. It is expected that fifty or more active newspaper men will come.

Silver Service for Secretary.

At a downtown jeweler's in exhibited a beautiful silver service, presented to Secretary M. S. Gregory of the Union League by the club in recognition of his valuable and enthusiastic services, for which he has received no compensation. Mr. Gregory has done a lion's work in building the league to its present condition of great prosperity.

Veterans Invite Bids.

A meeting of Commander C. F. Wilson of Pomona and his council of administration of the Southern California Veterans' Association was held yesterday in the Bartlett-Logan Hotel. Plans for the annual encampment next September were discussed and it was decided to invite bids from localities wishing to have the encampment.

Gambling Place Raided.

A detail of officers from the University Police Station, under the direction of Captain Bradish, last night raided an alleged joint which has been maintained on Central avenue near Fifty-seventh street. Martin Hall, said to be proprietor, and C. Lyons were arrested and taken to the Central Police Station. A number of cables and gambling paraphernalia were confiscated and sent in to police headquarters.

Chiaffarelli's Italian Night.

Chiaffarelli's Tuesday evening programs, to be given as usual tonight in Chutes Theater, is made up principally of Italian selections, the chief of which is a new arrangement of "Il Trovatore." Signor Dimitri and Fortulatti playing the incidental solos. Other numbers will be the third act of "Uccellacci," "Chiaffarelli's" March No. 18, the overture to "William Tell," Manonelli's "Coppola," Verdi's "Johanna d'Arco" and a soprano solo by Miss Farnigini.

Roses for School Grounds. Five hundred roses for the school grounds—that is the good fortune that awaits the Garden Committee of the Out-door Art Section of the Civic Association, which will meet this morning at 9:30 at the Chamber of Commerce. This fine offer of assistance for the beautifying of the school grounds of Los Angeles comes from Frank P. Chase, vice-president of the Chase Nursery Company of Riverside, the donor having read in The Times the plans that the women of the Civic Association are making. Mr. Chase's is the first offer of large donation of plants yet received this season. The news will cause great rejoicing among those interested.

CORNERED "LOVE APPLES."

Canned Tomatoes Syndicated at Chicago Despite Supply from California and the South.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Canned tomatoes have for the first time been successfully "cornered," the festive "Love Apple," as the Indians call the luscious vegetable, costs just twice as much now as it did last January. A syndicate holds 25 per cent. of what is left of an extremely short crop, and there is no relief in sight till the new crop comes next July.

The demand at present is about one million cases per month. There is a "visible supply" of 1,500,000 cases, of which the syndicate controls all but 15,000 cases.

The syndicate that is making the trouble is said to be headed by Millard G. House of Beloit, Md. The South and West will have to save the country. From California carloads of canned tomatoes already are beginning to roll into Chicago, but they can do little more than stop the gap for a day or two.

FRENCH DEFEAT CHINESE.

MARSEILLE (France), Jan. 17.—The Chinese mail, which arrived here today, brought an account of the invasion of Tonquin, French Indo-China, by Chinese regulars, who encountered a French force numbering 400 men, of whom 150 were Europeans. A three-hour battle ensued, resulting in the defeat of the Chinese, who lost 1,000 killed and 300 wounded. The French lost sixteen men of the foreign legion and twenty Annamites.

VILE ROAD DENS GO, ASCOT RING STAYS.

Supervisors and District Attorney Lift Divekeeper's License—"Solid Three" Stands by the Gamblers. Day of Many Troubles.

THE notorious Canary Cottage of evil fame crashed out of existence. The proposed ordinance forbidding gambling at Ascot defeated by the Solid Three.

Editor Eddy Earl called naughty names by Supervisor Al Graham.

Supervisor Patterson "bashed" and "boomed" and biased by the preachers plausibly, contradicting about five different affidavits. He admitted to Capt. Brady, who put a quiet question, that it might have been done without his knowledge.

Capt. Fredericks read him a portion of an affidavit wherein it was shown how he audaciously kept his guests from catching sight of each other, shoving them round the rooms.

Dr. W. A. Lamb Brought Out as Candidate Against Al Graham and the Push.

Many of the property holders and lovers of good order and righteousness in the Third Supervisorial District have been looking around for a suitable candidate to pit against Supervisor Al Graham and the push in that district. They are tired of Graham's constant trucking to the gamblers, grafters and cheap politicians, and his consistent snubbing of the better elements of the population.

It is Graham's last term, and the push know it. The wrath and indignation of the voters are going to consume him. The bosses have taken early notice and are endeavoring to trot out former Supervisor Field as their candidate.

The name of Dr. W. A. Lamb, one of the Park Commissioners, has been suggested by so many citizens as the one to head the fight against the combined forces of evil in the Third District that he was asked to permit his friends to urge his candidacy for Supervisor, and yesterday he tentatively gave his consent. It is a practically foregone conclusion that the opponents of the wide-open policies supported by Graham will unite on Dr. Lamb and will make a showing that will surprise the Grahamites.

Big Piece of Furniture Goes by Postal Route, Deadhead, from Washington to Fort Bayard.

Next thing to go flying through the mails on a pass probably will be a string of horses from Washington to the winter home of some Congressman or Senator.

The oddest and bulkiest article to make its way by the postal route from the East in this direction recently was a billiard table. It wasn't one of those little boy-size billiard tables made to be screwed on the dining-room table or other convenient piece of furniture, but a regulation table such as is seen in any downtown pool parlor.

It was sent from Washington to Fort Bayard, N. M., and it fairly filled one end of the large postal car in which it was carried with other mail matter. It was sent under a postal frank, by the United States Marine Hospital Service.

DEMURRER DENIED.

In the case of the New Liverpool Salt Company versus the California Development Company the demurrer of the defense has been overruled, and they must answer in the Circuit Court the next day. The defense objected to the original complaint.

OVER MANY CROSSINGS.

Just how many crossings were jeopardized by those runaway cars would take a day's run to find out. Everybody familiar with the road between Los Angeles and Pasadena knows some of them. How it happened that no carriages, automobiles, street cars or other trains happened in the way must be set down as proof that there was no one out that way who is fated to die just yet.

Each Main street was the last crossing, and boys who live near by say they never saw any train going half as fast as those cars were hitting the rails. Swaying from side to side like a pair of drunken men trying to run

VENICE JUMP FOR ASCOT?

Supervisor Says Fair Haven by Sea Has Been Proffered to Gambling Ring.

Other protecting arms besides Lucky Baldwin's have stretched out to succor Ascot Park's gamblers and the whole works.

One of the Supervisors stated yesterday that Venice has offered to let the track and pool ring run there after this season.

One of the officers of the Venice management stated that Ascot next season will be "in a place where the Supervisors will have no authority whatever over it"—which would be the case at Venice.

Sports generally concede that the track will not be in its present situation another year.

Is it a race between "Lucky" Baldwin and Abbot Kinney for the glory of sheltering the betting ring?

TERRIFIC DASH OF WILD CARS.

Shoot Like Catapult Down Grade from Pasadena.

Breakneck Ten Mile Spurt Without a Casualty

Safety Switch Throws Them at Last Into Ditch.

Good luck alone averted a catastrophe yesterday morning, when two Santa Fe freight cars, loaded mostly with Portland cement, broke away from their berths at Pasadena and for nearly ten miles came careering down grade on a mission of death and destruction to all that happened in their path, until a derailing switch that always stands open near the Southern Pacific crossing on Alhambra avenue pitched them into the ditch and through the fence of the F. K. Simonds pipe factory, tearing out sixty yards of track and turning the cars into an almost unrecognizable mass of kindling wood and junk.

No one was hurt, and that is the strangest part of the story. A sand wagon that "stalled" on the East Main-street crossing for ten minutes at 11:45 o'clock just got away when the pair of loose cars went thundering by at fully sixty miles an hour. Notwithstanding a slight up grade from Main street to the point where the ditch, ties and Simonds' fence finally brought them to a stop, the distance that the cars plowed through heavy timbers, iron switch rods and steel rails showed plainly that the momentum of a mile a minute at least had borne them on at the instant of leaving the track.

The Southern Pacific maintains a signal tower at the Santa Fe junction on Alhambra avenue. The men in charge have four ways to watch, and the track on the north is equipped with the usual form of derailing switch, which is always open, and so indicated by a semaphore whose arms stand out in the direction of impending derailment. Trains desiring passage must whistle and slow down until the switch is closed, else they will go into the ditch, which is a serious matter, as the embankment is twenty feet high.

RELEASE A MYSTERY.

How the cars got away from Pasadena the Santa Fe officials claim not to know. Old railroad men say, however, that there is no excuse for an accident of the sort. When an investigation now pending has reached a conclusion it may become known how the cars made the main track, and came careering down the long hill past the Raymond Hotel like a brace of bricks dropped from a precipice.

The forward car contained a full load of cement. The rear one was loaded partly with lighter material, but was still all too heavy for such a job as yesterday's. When the two got under way nothing could have stopped them except the ditch. There was nobody on either to set brakes, even had the air reservoirs been equal to the terrible strain that would have been required of them without replenishment from the engine that was not there.

Through Garvanza and Highland Park "like a shot out of a gun," as one resident put it, the runaways whizzed. After them—about ten minutes behind—puffed a wheezy little switch engine in a feeble travesty on speed that looked sickly beside the headlong dash that had preceded it. The engineer did his best, and even threw a note out of the cab asking whoever found it to advise the Santa Fe officials in town at once of the disagreeable surprise that was storming down upon them all unaware. Whether this message did any good, or would have, is conjectural, but the ever-ready derailing switch at Alhambra avenue is designed for things of the sort, and did its work to a king's taste.

OVER MANY CROSSINGS.

Just how many crossings were jeopardized by those runaway cars would take a day's run to find out. Everybody familiar with the road between Los Angeles and Pasadena knows some of them. How it happened that no carriages, automobiles, street cars or other trains happened in the way must be set down as proof that there was no one out that way who is fated to die just yet.

Each Main street was the last crossing, and boys who live near by say they never saw any train going half as fast as those cars were hitting the rails. Swaying from side to side like a pair of drunken men trying to run

Box and Money Reported Handed to Prisoner at Courthouse Day Before the Jail Break.

No word has been heard as to the young men who broke jail Sunday afternoon.

But was it a spoon that they broke jail with? Queer circumstances came out yesterday.

A deputy employed in the Courthouse stated that he saw a man hand money and a box, like a match box, Saturday afternoon, to jail inmates.

A number of prisoners had been working about the Courthouse, and, according to the deputy, were passing by the Courthouse singing in chorus in charge of a deputy sheriff. Near the northwest corner of the building a man was standing. As they passed one of the prisoners asked him for a match.

The man passed him a match box and tobacco. A little later the same man is claimed to have handed the same prisoner coins, saying that it was a reward if they would sing again for him.

The deputy who saw this claims to have seen the whole transaction plainly from his desk.

This was the day before the jail break. Was it really a power song that they broke jail with? What was in the match box?

TREE STOPS "JUICE" FLOW.

Falls Across High Tension Wires Near Compton and Ties up Electric Cars.

The falling of a huge gum tree across the feed wires of the Pacific Electric Railroad cut off the "juice" and for nearly two hours yesterday afternoon stalled the cars on the Long Beach and San Pedro lines.

The sputtering and hissing of the highly-charged wires as they swung in the air or came in contact with the ground added a spectacular touch to the affair.

Tree-choppers working near Compton had felled several giant eucalypti near the track and were at work on another, more than 100 feet in height, when the rope with which it was being guided broke and the tree fell toward instead of away from the track.

In its descent the tree tore through a feed wire of 60,000 voltage, together with six others carrying a lighter load, tearing them from their supports on the poles and cutting off the current supplied to that section of track, stopping all cars within the zone and holding back others on either side of the break.

The break was attended with extreme danger, owing to the high voltage carried by the wires.

a foot race, they finally struck the open switch with a crash that could be heard half a mile. The manager of the Simonds Company was standing in the grand watching the slipping of some water pipe in hot asphalt, when there was a sound of splashing wood immediately following a succession of collisions caused by the car wheels cutting off the ends of the ties, and the resultant plunge through the signal system into a mass that looked like tangled fish line. The track was torn out for about sixty yards, and traffic was stopped completely on the division for some time, but a gang of 200 choppers and other section hands began work at once, and by late afternoon had things pretty well to rights.

SHARPER TO SMITHERS.

The two-inch steel kingbolts that bind the freight trucks to the car body were sheared off like putty by the force of the impact, and both the cars were put out of commission beyond any prospect of repair. Some parts may be of use again. Choppers residing in the neighborhood were laying up the rest of their winter wood last night—as at least of them as would work hard enough to pick it up.

Had the runaway ever passed Alhambra avenue and entered the crowded portions of the Santa Fe yards, where they would have had to cross a number of streets and the Los Angeles Railway Company tracks, it seems hardly possible that considerable loss of life could have been avoided. Only the prompt action of the derailing switch averted this, it being one of the few automatic appliances that can be depended upon to work whatever happens.

Acot, was the favorite at odds of three to two.

This points will keep on running—the way they are fixed to run.

Acot wins. Acot always wins. It is the pattern of the place that the losing.

The fact that Morocco is rich in cork furnishes another strong reason why it should prove a favorite meeting place for diplomats.

The proper way to size up Polinsky is to consider the fact that even the United States Senate was able to steer at him.

It was to be expected, of course, that a law should be passed in Missouri requiring street car conductors to show every passenger a seat.

When the South is filled with Italian instead of negro laborers, we wonder what kind of fire Vardaman and the likes of him will then find to eat?

Now that Persia and China have demanded constitutions, we wouldn't be surprised if some day the people of Mississippi would also demand one.

Venezuela was, day before yesterday, disturbed by an earthquake, but up to the hour of going to press she appears to have been as little as ever disturbed by France.

In order to be perfectly fair about the matter, it must be admitted that it is just as reprehensible to have bar rooms in clubs as it is to have clubs in bar rooms.

It having been made public that Morocco is a marvelously rich country, we can all now easily understand why France and Germany are sparing for the control of it.

If we should send this Acot proposition to the Legislature, what would happen to it? asks Supervisor Alexander. It would depend altogether on the size of the sack.

If Doc Howton would only get a motion through Council to repeal himself, he can rest assured that nobody will for a moment consider that he had then made a mistake.

Concerning the case of Arthur Balfour, doubtless the idea of those Britonists is that it is a pity to rob the links of a good golf player by putting a poor politician in the Parliament.

Morocco needs piety. Let France and Germany beat up their swords and fill that unhappy land with the song of the husbandman, instead of threatening one another with dum-dums.

The reports from Morocco are likely to start a stampede of American prospectors there. In that event Uncle Sam may also have something to say as to how that country shall be governed.

The press dispatches recounting the loss of the ill-fated ship "King David" report the loss of sailor Evan Jones, Casaravon, England. Does England want to take everything away from Wales?

The fact that the ordinance requiring corporations to file reports has been repealed will come as a surprise, especially to a large number of people who were not aware that there ever was such an ordinance.

The action of the Board of Supervisors on the Acot Park business indicates that the gentlemen of the board quite agree with the remark old Vanderbilt once made concerning the public.

The Senate says the President had no right to send representatives of this government to the conference at Algiers. If the President did only that which the Senate says he has a right to do he wouldn't have any more power than Mr. Fairbanks has.

Perhaps the point the three leading life insurance companies desired to impress upon the public, above all others, when they selected Grover Cleveland as a general referee, was that as no political party claims him, Cleveland, no political party can now claim contributions from the companies.

The girls in Algiers are described as having blue eyes and brown hair. The diplomats there assembled at this writing are described as having a blue feeling and a brown taste in their mouths of a morning. Thus does nature sometimes condescend to show a sympathetic interest in politics.

That Russian "revolutionist" who came to this town to debate with "Doc" Howton, the question, "Resolved, that the man who casts a ballot for a Schmitz-Ruef labor party betrays the real cause of the workingman," has bumped himself up against a stone wall. The question is not debatable.

MORAL LEOPARDS CLEANED OUT.

Two of the worst resorts in the city or county have been put out of business since the Times first called attention to the lawless and shocking practices at the various road-house, so-called, Chiet of Police Ambler promptly shut up one within his jurisdiction, the only one known within the city limits, the moment he was made aware of its infractions of law; and yesterday the more slowly moved Board of Supervisors gave the finishing touch to another. So far, so good. It is a source of congratulation that two such disgraceful holes have been stopped up. The proprietors of others are shaking in their shoes, and well they may.

The case with which the Supervisors found a sufficient case against Canary Cottage, when they got down to business and faced the issue, shows how vacuous was the claim that there was not sufficient evidence against those disorderly dives. The Sheriff made a brain-bank investigation, which of course was not prolific of testimony relating to violations of law in his bailiwick, though it was fruitful in evidence against offenders in the city. Everybody knew that such was not the way to hunt the road-house foxes. The town has been hawed. But the District Attorney's office is in earnest; it found a way; pool-pooling Supervisors at last saw a concrete case before them; their final action was unanimous. They could not ignore the overwhelming affidavits laid before them.

Dist. Atty. Fredericks and his assistants are entitled to the heartfelt thanks of everybody who would see Los Angeles a clean city and a county just as clean. He has shown what honest purpose in public office can do. He is after the grafters and the moral lepers and gives them the most solemn assurance that none such can expect any quarter from him, pull or no pull. Keep at them, keep at them, Capt. Fredericks!

KEEP COOL.

A vivid object lesson in the importance of keeping cool under circumstances calculated to produce great excitement, was furnished by the terrible panic in St. Paul's Baptist Church, Philadelphia, on Sunday evening, resulting in the killing of eight persons and the serious injury of about two score others. It was a repetition of the Iroquois Theater disaster in Chicago, though on a smaller scale. If the six hundred persons who perished in the Iroquois Theater fire had acted with coolness and self-control, every one might have passed out to the street in safety. But they engaged in a mad scramble at the exits, with the result that the places of egress were soon choked with a howling, panic-stricken mob, escape became impossible, and one of the great tragedies of the world was enacted.

In the Philadelphia church disaster, the conditions were much the same. There was a slight fire (which was extinguished before the flames arrived). A piercing shriek of "fire" started the stampede, which speedily became a fierce panic, in which every one tried to get out of the building at once, with the usual tragic result. To the fact that the church in Philadelphia was not crowded was due the comparative small loss of life. If the gathering had been as large as that at the Iroquois Theater, the fatality would doubtless have been as great.

The object lesson, like many others which have preceded it, is as plain as a pike-staff, and it can be expressed in two short words—keep cool. But it will not be heeded, of course. Human nature is about the same the world over. In every representative gathering of humans there are excitable persons who go into a frenzy of fear upon the slightest appearance of danger. These excitable persons start all the panics, and a panic, once started, spreads in a crowd like a gale of wind. Persons who, under ordinary conditions, are sane and sensible human beings, become savage and dangerous lunatics in an instant. Reason deserts them, and is replaced by a wild, uncontrollable impulse to secure personal safety at any cost, even at the cost of others' lives. One of the most terrible spectacles in the world is an audience in a park, when all the instincts of gentleness have disappeared, and the primal savage is dominant.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred when an alarm of fire is raised in a crowded assemblage, every person present could very soon get out of real danger if all would keep their wits about them and pass out of the exits in an orderly manner, instead of making a frantic rush and choking the places of egress. It would not be a bad idea, perhaps, to place conspicuously on the walls of all places of assembly, at convenient intervals and in large letters, the terse legend—

"Keep Cool."

It might serve as a constant reminder of the wisdom of self-control in the face of threatened danger.

THE AMERICAN SLANG LANGUAGE.

Recently, in the city of Baltimore, a notable lecture on the beauty and value of the English language was delivered by Prof. Henry E. Shepherd, who is an authority on the subject, and his lecture has attracted widespread attention throughout the East.

"Language is the mirror of one's position in life," said the lecturer. "One may deceive by one's dress, by manners, but one's language will betray him. All English in books is not pure. In a certain school I found that they were using Mark Twain's books as an example, but while it was humorous and breezy, it was not pure. Read Thackeray, read a few of Arnold's letters, Newman's sermons or Goldsmith's works."

What we really need, however, more than lectures on the English language, is a general assault all along the line on what might be called the American slang language—the most fearful and wonderful method of human expression ever known since language was invented. We refer to the form of speech used in the daily life of the American people, Los Angeles being no exception, but really a brilliant example. We must call it the American slang language for want of a better name. Certainly it is not the English language.

The advice of Prof. Shepherd to read Thackeray, Newman and the other masters, is good advice. And strange to say, it is advice that is followed by all who make pretensions whatever to education, culture and refinement. But the sad part of it is that it does no good as far as it might be expected to have an effect on the spoken English of the people. They read English, and sometimes they write it, but they speak American.

You may stand on a Los Angeles street corner or sit in a Los Angeles club—men's or women's—and you will hear the English language murdered in cold blood by people who will boast to you in the same breath of their college days. Lindley Murray would die of grief and shame could he hear English spoken as we speak it.

Take a seat in a street car conveying a bevy of high school boys and girls up Broadway and Temple streets, and listen to their pathetic misuse of the English language. You will wonder what is being taught in our schools. You will surely come to the conclusion that English is not taught there.

Perhaps it makes no difference. The American slang language may be as good as any other. But if it is, we should officially adopt it and appoint a commission to specifically designate it. As it is, we claim to be using English, and are thus parading under false colors and conversing with one another under false pretences.

UNNECESSARY PRINTING.

The President has done a wise thing in issuing instructions to the heads of various departments in the government service, tending to do away with unnecessary printing. If the President's instructions be carried out, not only will a great amount of expense be saved in the cost of public printing, but the form and matter of annual reports and other public documents will be much improved and simplified.

For many years the printing turned out from the Government Printing Office has been little less than a public scandal. The resources of this great establishment—the largest printing office in the world—have been taxed to the uttermost, at times, in the printing of so-called official reports and all sorts of so-called public documents. It is probably a safe assertion to say that three-quarters of this vast amount of public printing might be discontinued without material loss to any legitimate interest.

The Government Printing Office has long been run as a political machine. Congressmen and Senators have regarded its patronage as a part of their perquisites. The force of men employed has been much larger than was needed to meet all legitimate requirements. Tons and tons of printed matter have been turned out annually for which there was no real demand. Millions of pages of "copy" have been sent to the printer which would better have been sent to the rubbish heap, because it was so voluminous and "long-winded" that nobody would ever care to read it, unless compelled to do so (and as yet we have not seen a single person to read these endless pages of wearisome and profitless statistics). Thousands of tons of this tedious and unreadable matter have been sent through the mails, on Congressional franks, to kindle the fires in country homes all over the land, and to serve other more or less useful purposes which it is unnecessary to enumerate. In brief, the Government Printing Office has long been made the dumping place for a large part of the literary rubbish turned out by useless and unfeeling employees of the government. In campaign times, Senators and Representatives have found the Government Printing Office a convenient medium for the printing and distribution, under the franking privilege, of political documents on the one side or the other—for both political parties have been derelict in this matter to a scandalous extent.

The President will have considerable difficulty in bringing about the reform which he evidently contemplates. Politicians have so entrenched themselves in what they regard as their special privileges that they will be reluctant to cooperate with the President—more especially as the latter has created not a few enemies among the class of politicians who will cling most tenaciously to these political abuses. But Mr. Roosevelt has issued instructions to heads of departments, as before stated, which will go far toward shutting off a goodly portion of the flood of unnecessary printing. It is proposed that all "copy" shall be edited before it is submitted to the printer, and that in the editing all extraneous and needless matter shall be excluded. A large proportion of the government printing is composed of tabular matter, for the composition of which double and sometimes treble prices are exacted. The President's instructions require that statistical matter shall be published in condensed and intelligible form; that mailing lists shall be frequently revised; that duplication of printing by different bureaus shall be prevented; that unnecessary illustrations shall be excluded from department documents; and that the maximum edition allowed by law shall not be printed when the minimum edition will suffice.

If the hearty cooperation of Congress could be counted upon in the President's efforts to reduce the extravagance of the Government Printing Office, the reform would be easy of accomplishment. Unfortunately, these plans are more likely to meet with opposition than with cooperation from the legislative branch of the government.

The President long ago promised that the public printing office should be made an open shop, as it should be by every consideration of right and justice and good policy. There is no doubt that the President means what he said. The printers' union has no more right to run the Government Printing Office than it has to run the Presidential office, and the monopoly which it (the union) has so long maintained in the printing department ought to be abolished forthwith, despite the boasted "pull" of the totentum with members of Congress and other officials.

"MIGHT HAVE"

I have lived my life, and I face the end.

But that other life I might have led.

Where lay the road, and who was its friend?

And how comes the goal, when the years were fled?

Where lay the road? Did I miss the turn?

The friend unknown? Our greetings unsaid?

And goal unsought? Shall I never learn?

What was that life I might have led?

As the spring's last look, for one dear day

From skies autumnal on earth may I see?

So lures me that other life—but, nay!

I have lived my life, and I face the end.

—Edith M. Thomas, in the February Smart Set.

Life's Measure.

In the springtime of youth, oh, the plans that we make.

Through the hours that are measured in song.

And winding and far are the paths that we take.

For life is so long—so long!

In the autumn of age how we anxiously

Our tasks without rest or relief.

And never a moment then dare we to

For life is so brief—so brief!

—Walter Hunt, in the Cultivator.
